1 Longing for a Hug
Hatachana – Tel Aviv's Old Railway Station
 An exhibit of 40 original works created by well-known Israeli artists that tell the stories of bereaved children across the country as a consequence of war, military operations or terror attacks. The stories have been taken from a book of the same name, which is supported by the charity OneFamily.
► Closes Sep 28. Hamered St, corner of Koifman St, Tel Aviv (hatachana.co.il)

2 Street Wolves (pictured)
The Jerusalem Artists' House
 Lena Zaidel's seemingly simplistic paintings explore the absence of holiness when there are no humans to witness it, thus prompting the question of the meaning of objects when there are no humans to view them.
► Closes Oct 12. 12 Shmuel HaNagid St, Jerusalem (02-6253653/art.org.il)

3 Silent Transition
Zaritsky Artists House
 Miriam Levy uses the unique technique of hot wax blended with color pigments to create her works conveying tension and mystery through the use of contrasts such as dark and light, opacity and transparency, hot and cold.
► Sep 3– Oct 5. 9 Alharizi St, Tel Aviv (03-5246685/artisthouse.co.il)
